International Human Rights Day

Speaker Joshua V. Barr

Joshua V. Barr is an Emmy-winning transformational leader, human rights attorney, and public speaker who has trained individuals globally. After shifting from a corporate career to his passion for social justice, he has worked on policy changes at various government levels. As the executive director of the Des Moines Civil & Human Rights Commission, he initiated the Bridging the Gap program, resulting in over 20 new city policies to enhance community relations. In 2020, he released the Emmy-winning documentary "Breaking Bread, Building Bridges," promoting dialogue among diverse individuals. Currently, he is the Chief Strategist and President of Raising The Barr, where he helps organizations improve community engagement and socioeconomic outcomes, including developing the CPEE Toolkit for HUD's CDBG-DR Program. Joshua continues to advocate for social change through nationwide speaking and community dialogues.
